Delia Champion has been a restaurateur in the city of Atlanta for the last eight years. In 1993 Delia Champion opened The Flying Biscuit Café in the city's Historic Candler Park neighborhood. Since then she has opened a second location in Atlanta's Midtown. She is an active participant and contributor to various grass root organizations and national health organizations that represent an agenda for positive change, celebration of diversity and growth for the city of Atlanta.

She has hosted and sponsored Benefits for the Candler Park Neighborhood Association. These events raised funds that support the development and growth of the Candler Park neighborhood. She has coordinated and contributed wine dinners to support grass root organizations like The Atlanta Lesbian Cancer Initiative. She is a contributing participant in city-wide fund raising activities such as Taste of Atlanta and Dining Out for Life that supports Project Open Hand. Ms Champion is an active participant and fundraiser for the Muscular Dystrophy Bike Ride and Susan G Koeman Race for the Cure. Her interest in the social and humanitarian development for the city of Atlanta is demonstrated in her acknowledgement and support of local projects like feeding and comforting the homeless through the Kashi Atlanta Street Meals and contributions to local school projects such as the Children's School and Howard School.
